- Supply Chain and Procurement
- Emerging Female Professional Leaders

Who Can Submit a Nomination?
The following mine employees may submit nominations:

- Colleagues
- Supervisors and Managers
- Employers
- Women in Mining
- Self-nominations may also be accepted

What Makes a Strong Nomination?
Nominees should demonstrate one or more of the following:
✓ Leadership and professional excellence
✓ Innovation and problem-solving
✓ Commitment to safety and sustainability
✓ Mentorship and empowerment of others
✓ Community impact and social responsibility
✓ Resilience and overcoming barriers in mining
✓ Contribution to transformation and inclusion within the industry

How to Nominate

1. Nominations can be across all Northern Cape mining operations
2. Complete the official NC WIM Awards Nomination Form.
3. Provide the nominee's details and current role (including employee number).
4. Submit a motivation outlining why the nominee deserves recognition.
5. Include examples of achievements, impact, leadership, or contributions.
6. Attach any supporting documents, testimonials, certificates, or references (optional).

Selection Process
An independent judging panel will review all nominations. Entries will be assessed against the award criteria, achievements, leadership qualities, and overall impact within the mining industry.
